Decision Against Town of Westery

Jury Awards Courtland P. Chapman $900 Damages—Further Action Probable in Fire System Matter—Elks Plan Annual Lodge of Sorrow—Decision Reserved in Coy Case.

There is likely to be further reconsideration of the matter of a fire alarm system in the extended section of the Westery fire district. In contravention of the action taken at the annual meeting, when a vote authorizing a change and extension of the system was rescinded. It was argued in opposition that the gradually improved telephone system was of such a nature that the installation of a new fire alarm system would soon become an antiquated system and that it was therefore advisable to go slow before appropriate $1,730 for a fire alarm system, or rather, an improvement and extension of the present system.

It was also argued that if this expense had become necessary by reason of the enlargement of the district the taxpayers in the new section should meet the cost, as the present system was paid for by the taxpayers of the original district.

Such talk as this had its effect on the small number that attended the meeting, very few of them being residents of the section recently added to the fire district, it being generally understood among them that inasmuch as they had not yet paid fire tax they were not entitled to vote in the annual meeting. In this they were mistaken, as they will be assessed taxation to meet the expenses of the fire district for the current year. Therefore when objection was made to extension of the system there were but few who would be directly affected present to oppose the denial of proper and equal fire protection to the annexed section.

Although the meeting took advantage of the enlargement of the district and reduced the rate of taxation from 20 cents to 15 cents on each $100 of taxable property, it was voted to make no appropriation for a fire alarm extension. The committee, acting upon the supposition that there was to be a square deal, caused twenty fire hydrants to be placed in the new section, which are of lessened value for fire protection without a fire alarm system, for the telephone plan, no matter how good the service, is of no value in case of fire, as Westery has a volunteer department and there are no paid men in the fire house at all times to respond to telephone call.

When the question of extending the fire district was first considered Chief Cottrell, acting for the committee, interviewed every property owner in the new section and received their signature to a petition favoring enlargement of the district, with the distinct understanding that they were to receive fire protection equal to any other section of the district.

It is understood that residents of the new section of the fire district will demand a special meeting, when effort will be made to rescind the vote now in force and provide for extension and improvement of the fire alarm system.

Westerly lodge of Elks has completed arrangements for the observance of Memorial Sunday in Hiltens opera house. The memorial address will be given by Attorney Daniel M. Cronin of New London and the eulogy will be delivered by Judge Michael J. Murray of Boston. Orchestral music will be furnished under the direction of Prof. Charles E. Redford and vocal selections will be rendered by a quartette composed of Messrs. McKim, Coleman, St. Onge and Clancy; tenor solos by Martin H. Spelman and James McMurtry; soprano solos by Mrs. Ralph Maxon-Briggs, Mrs. Della Silva Healey and Mrs. Margaret Palmer-Porrett, and a bass solo by Thomas V. Clancy. Exercises will be held in the afternoon and are open to the public.

That there is much local interest in the court case of Courtland P. Chapman against the town of Westery, to recover damages for alleged injury to his property in connection with the improvement of the fire alarm system.

provement of the Watch Hill road, was demonstrated by the large number of spectators in the court room when Judge Stearns entered Thursday morning. Among those present was the senior class in civil government of the Westery High school.

Walter H. Barney of Providence, counsel for the town, made the opening argument. He spoke for nearly two hours and was followed by Judge John W. Sweeney, counsel for Mr. Chapman.

Judge Stearns charged the jury and the cases were given to that body for deliberation, a collation being provided for them in the temporary jury room in the central house, directly opposite the town hall.

While the jury were out the trespass and ejectment case of Frank W. Coy against William H. Rhodes was called to the court, jury trial being waived. After testimony for plaintiff was introduced Attorney Sweeney made a motion that the case be dismissed, there being no time specified in the declaration when Mr. Rhodes was unlawfully in possession of the premises, that Mr. Rhodes was a tenant at sufferance and not a tenant at will, and that the declaration was also further defective, as the property was therein located in Franklin street, while the deed specified the property to be on the post road. The matter was fully argued by Attorney Burdick for plaintiff and Attorney Sweeney for defendant. Judge Stearns took the papers and reserved decision.

At 4:45 the jury in the Chapman cases returned and rendered verdict in favor of plaintiff in both cases. The award of $900 was awarded in the trespass case and $300 for land damages, a total of $1,200 for Courtland P. Chapman. Court then adjourned sine die.

For the second time Thursday the fire alarm was sent in from box 17, located on Canal street, near the Arnold mill. The fire was in a barn on the Central park land north of Pond street, owned by an Italian named O'Neill. The contents of the barn was owned by Mattarasse & Conti, who have a butcher shop on Pond street. There were three horses in the barn, hay, wagons and some small pigs. All were taken out except the horses. They were overcome with smoke and could not be saved. The firemen went to the scene of the fire, but could do nothing, as the hydrant was too far away and the building was practically gone when they arrived. All they could do was to put down what remained. The building was a new one, built only about three months. The cause of the fire is not known.

Under the direction of Prof. R. A. H. Clark, musical instructor of schools, the chorus of the Westery High school gave the cantata "Joan of Arc, the Maid of Orleans," assisted by special soloists, before an appreciative audience in High school hall Thursday evening. The leading parts were taken by Miss Ruby Wagoner, soprano, of Holyoke, Albert H. Hart, tenor, of Meriden, and Charles H. Clark, barytone, of Boston. The cantata was as successfully produced as any of these annual events that have preceded.

A New London man who is under suspension on the charge of being a common drunkard by the Third district court in Westery, was taken into custody at the direction of the town of Westery, on the charge of suspension means six months in the Providence county workhouse, deliberately got drunk Wednesday. He had sense enough to hurry out of Westery and cross over the bridge into Pawcatuck and thus get beyond the legal reach of the Westery police. Officer Casey, who is familiar with the situation, took the New London man into custody and placed him in the Pawcatuck lockup. He will be given opportunity to return to his home or go back into Westery and spend six months in a Rhode Island institution of correction.

The forty horse power automobile belonging to Charles P. Chapman was burned Thursday night at about 5:30 o'clock. Mr. Chapman had been out in his machine and had stopped on Summer street, when he tried to crank the machine it back fired the carburetor and set the wood on fire. In an instant the whole machine was wrapped in flames. An alarm was sent in from box 32, corner Granite and Chester avenue, to which the firemen promptly responded. Water had no effect at first so that chemical was next tried, proving more effective. The pipe to the gasoline tank melted and the gasoline ran out on the ground, preventing an explosion, which was fortunate, as there was a large crowd close to the burning machine, which is a complete wreck, everything burned down to the iron work. It was towed to the Bentley garage on Main street, where it will be repaired.

Local Leagues.
Westerly Methodists are holding weekly cottage meetings.

The pontoon bridge in the Pawcatuck river will be placed in position today (Friday) and remain until spring.

OTHER PEOPLE'S WIVES.
Voting in Spain is held to be a duty to the community, not merely a privilege of the individual, and neglect of civic obligations carries its own penalties. Male adults of legal age and under 70, with the exception of priests, notaries and judges, are required to vote a municipal election. Failure to cast a ballot is punishable by having one's name published as censure for neglect, by paying taxes increased 2 per cent, by suffering a deduction of 1 per cent. in salary if employed in the public service, and for a second offense, the loss of right to hold elective or appointive office.

Marco Polo (1254-1324) of Venice was the first person to announce to Europe the existence of paper money, in China, under the moguls. The fact has induced the belief that the moguls were the originators of it. But in the history of Ghenghis Khan and of the mogul dynasty in China, published in the year 1739, the author speaks of the suppression of the paper money which was in use under the dynasty of the Sung, who reigned in China previous to the moguls; and he also mentions a new species of notes which were substituted for the old in the year 1264.

In Sydney, Australia, an official wages board has just determined the future salaries of the professional musicians. Players in the hands of ordinary theaters are to receive $15 a week. When opera is being performed the rate is to be $24 a week, and $1.50 for each day rehearsal and $2.40 for each night one. The operative rate is also to rule for oratorios and seasons of concert. For casual engagements the figure is to be $5 for each performance.

Christmas Fair at Congregational Vestry Attracts Many Patrons—Fields-Paterson Marriage.

A Christmas fair was held in the Congregational vestry Thursday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the ladies' society. Just within the door an ideal doll house met the eye. It was of brick, with green decorations and a snow-covered roof, the interior being lighted with small electric lights. Here were dolls of all descriptions, dressed in every style, from the infant to the man in evening dress. There were go-carts, cradles, chairs, picture books and various other toys. The house was in charge of Miss A. F. Shaw and Mrs. H. E. Paul. A beautiful bride doll, whose name was to be guessed, was in charge of Miss Pearl Gane. Near by was a Christmas tree with all the fascinating decorations, and a real Santa Claus, personated by William Shaw. On the tree were packages which were sold, sight unseen, in charge of Mrs. Walter Marshall. The fancy party was in charge of Mrs. H. N. Wheelock. Mrs. F. E. Robinson, Misses Mary Beardswood, and Jean Burleson. Nearly all the articles were hand-made and found ready sale.

The domestic table, which was for sale was in charge of Mrs. Frank Coulam, Mrs. C. E. Spicer and Mrs. Sherman Waters. On the platform was the Japanese tea room where Mrs. F. S. Leonard, dressed in a Japanese costume, served tea and sold Japanese novelties. Japanese lanterns formed a canopy over the table, and oriental draperies decorated the walls of the room, while fans and panels formed the background. Japanese joss sticks added to the realistic effect.

In the center of the room was a handkerchief booth in charge of Misses Mabel and Irene Young. It was arranged as a bower of climbing roses and foliage, with an antique lantern in the center overhead. A large Christmas bell with smaller ones added much to the beauty of the booth. The candy booth was very artistic, it being one recently attended by Mrs. E. L. entertainment, and the work of Mrs. Nelbert Myatt. Here toothsome home-made candies of all varieties were sold by Mrs. C. W. Robinson, Misses Mary E. Soule, Pearl and May Gane.

A lunch counter and cake table proved tempting. The cake table was attractive with lighted candles. Oyster stew, mince, sandwiches and coffee were served at an adjoining table. In charge were Mrs. Fred S. Brown, Miss S. K. Adams, Mrs. Frank Ray, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Charles Wolfe and Mrs. Ella George. Ice cream was sold by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Haskell in a white booth with a heavily laden snow roof. Mrs. E. H. Hiscoc and Miss Jean Burton had charge of a fruit cake, given by Mrs. Burton of Greenville.

The fair was largely attended both afternoon and evening, and proved very successful. It was in charge of the officers of the society, Mrs. W. H. Gane, president.

Two bedquits, the property of Miss Mary Smith, were on exhibition; one was known as the organ quilt, the other was made years ago, when the church was lighted by gas.

WEDDING.

Fields-Paterson.
Rev. J. W. Payne was the officiating clergyman at the marriage of Miss Merrill Paterson and Richard M. Fields, which took place at the home of William Jenkins on Ashland street, Mr. Jenkins acting as best man, and Miss Lizzie Harris as bridesmaid. Mrs. Fields was a valued member of F. H. Fanning's home and Mr. Fields has been employed by Arnold Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Fields left on an evening train for New Bedford, Va., the bride's home, and will reside in Chula, Va., the home of the groom.

Personals.
William P. Vaughan of Central Village will succeed James A. Johnson in Ashland mill.

Mrs. Jenkes of Plainfield was the guest of Mrs. A. C. Ladd on Thursday.

How They Make Slaves in Mexico.
John Kenneth Turner's third article on "Barbarous Mexico," which appears in the December American Magazine, is quite the most interesting and up-to-date of any yet written. In this installment he describes his visit to the Valle Nacional, "the worst slave hole in Mexico." Of the manner in which slaves are procured for the tobacco plantations in the valley, Mr. Turner states:

"There are just two ways employed to get them there. They are sent over the road directly by a jefe politico or by a 'labor agent' working in conjunction and in perfect understanding with a jefe politico."

"A jefe politico is a civil officer who rules political districts corresponding to our counties. He is appointed by the president of the government of his state and is also mayor, or president, or ex officio of every town or city in his district. In turn he usually appoints the mayors of the towns under him, as well as all other officers of importance. He has the power to order to except his governor—unless the national president feels like calling him to account—and altogether is quite a little czar in his domain."

"The methods employed by the labor agent in 'getting' the laborers are many and various. His first step is to open an employment office and advertise for workers who are to be given high wages, a comfortable home and plenty of freedom somewhere in the south of Mexico. Free transportation is offered. These inducements always cause a certain number to take the bait. Especially men with families who want to move with their families to a more prosperous climate. The husband and father is given an advance fee of $5 and the whole family is looked up in a room resembling a jail. After a day or two, they have misgivings. Perhaps they ask to be let out, and then they find they are indeed prisoners. They are told that they are in debt and will be held until they work out their debt. A few days later the door opens and they file out. They find that rumors are all about them. They are bundled into wagons and marched through a back street to a railroad station, where they are put upon the train. They try to get away, but it is no use; they are prisoners. In a few days they are in Valle Nacional."

Posse After Bear and Panthers.
Two large black bears passed through the meadow just south of the buildings on Col. H. O. Clark's farm on the south side of the Winooski river in Bolton, Saturday.

The Clark farm is only a short distance from the main highway between Burlington and Montpelier on the south side of the Winooski river and about one mile from the Bolton post office.

Bears and panthers are making frequent visits to that section. During the past month two so-called panthers and four large black bears were seen on the side of the mountain within a quarter of a mile of the railroad station. The bears are approaching so often and becoming so familiar that a large party was organized, started in pursuit of them, Monday afternoon—Rutland Vt. News.
